PARRELLA

DAHLIA GARDENS

presents the following introductions from our Gardens and other growers, for the Season of 1959

MRS. K. C. LI (Mrs. Lee Parrella)—

"A", I.D.—General effect peach. Saturn Red blushed Indian yellow. Has petals that turn and twist and many petaloids, giving a "full" petalage. Size 11½ by 6 inches, stems 10 to 12 inch cane like. This dahlia has been named for a charming lady, famous for her gardens and exotic plants in her estate at Glen Cove, Long Island, N. Y.

Roots, $15.00; Plants, $5.00 NET

Mrs. K. C. Li - "A", I. D. Peach

CECIL M. RUSCHMOHR S.C. (Minor)—The color is a light blend of white and lavender, with a cream center. Size of bloom 11" x 6", with good substance. Very distinctive. Straight sturdy stems, with light foliage which appears to be mildew resistant. Even in the late season seldom throws open center. Can be classified as an "A", light blend semi cactus.

NOGATA

LORETTA PIRONE (Parrella)

"B", S.C.—Autumn blend of Empire Yellow and Capsicum Red. Size 8 by 4 inches. Blooms facing. 8 to 10 inch, wiry stems. Keeping quality excellent. This variety has been named for the gracious wife of Dr. P. P. Pirone, noted plant pathologist of the N. Y. Botanical Gardens.

Roots, $10.00; Plants, $3.50, NET

LORETTA PIRONE

NITA, Breaks All Records (Hale Summit)

The 22 American Home Medals literally poured in from coast to coast and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico.

More eloquent evidence could not be cited to prove the sterling qualities of this great dahlia.

But if by the remotest chance you have not yet seen Nita nor heard about her we hasten to inform you she is Paul Hale's exciting sport of Juanita. Size and formation — "B", cactus — are the same as in Juanita and growth habits are equally excellent. The only thing that's different is the color, which is cyclamen purple with variegations of orchid purple.

Plant only $2.00

BERKY (Kovar-Ruschmohr)—Received certificate of merit at L. I. Trial Ground, also at East Lansing. This is an "A", I.C. of lemon yellow overcast mallow pink, except at center diameter of blooms $9\frac{1}{2}$ " to 11", depth $4\frac{1}{2}$ " to 6", stem 6" to 13" straight and strong. KEMP'S MEMORIAL (Kemp - Swoboda - Parrella)

Kemp's Memorial is an Informal Decorative with an exceptionally high center, a blended autumn gold color with soft bluish undertones. It grows normally 5-6 feet tall in well spreading bushes, holding the immense blooms in an ideal three-quarter-facing position on canelike stems high above the deep-green leathery foliage.

Three years ago, before Daddy Kemp of Little Silver, N. J., died, he gave what he considered "the best seedling he ever originated" to his life-long friends, Mr. and Mrs. A. Swoboda of Ridgefield Park, N. J. with the request "to grow it in his memory."

The Swobodas who placed many of Daddy Kemp's introductions in the winner classes on the show tables, grew this wonderful dahlia for three successive seasons and everybody who saw it in their garden said: "There is nothing like it."

The stock was never propagated, but always grown from clump divisions under natural conditions, without forcing and nobody else has any of it.

Field grown blooms are normally 12 inches in diameter and 7 to 8 inches deep; under cultivation and using fertilizers sparingly, the bushes will produce blooms 16 inches in diameter and 10 inches deep.

Kemp's Memorial is a prolific rootmaker, but has to be planted early for early blooms. Specific growing instructions for best results will be given with every order.

There has never been anything like this magnificent dahlia in the true autumn color class and in order to give it the widest possible introduction in memory of Daddy Kemp we are offering for the first time,

BRIEF SUGGESTIONS TO THE AMATEUR ON HOW TO GROW BETTER DAHLIAS

1. Select easily grown varieties and those giving full satisfaction.
2. Prepare the selected planting spot well and place the supporting stake.
3. Dig a hole next to the stake, about 10 inches in diameter and 7 to 8 inches deep, and place one handful of bonemeal in the hole, or any other recommended fertilizer and mix thoroughly with the soil before planting.
4. Place roots in flat position with the sprout or "eye" facing upwards. Cover lightly with about 2 inches of soil. In doing this be careful not to damage the sprout. As the plant grows, fill around the stem with soil.
5. Do not plant too early. At times, too early planting spoils good roots. I would suggest planting from June 1st on, except in climates where a short growing season is prevalent. In that case use your own judgment.
6. Keep the soil well cultivated throughout the season, and prevent weeds from outgrowing the plant.
7. Water plants during hot weather at least once a week. Do not merely sprinkle them, but soak them. This must be done after sundown.
8. Tie the plant to the supportive stake with soft cord, at distance of 12 inches apart. This is done as an added security against destruction by wind and storm. Spray with any reliable parasiticide at least once every two weeks.
9. About August 1st, scatter a handful of bonemeal about 6 inches around the stem and rake it gently into the soil. Other fertilizers may be used if desired. Do not use excessive amounts of fertilizer as injury to the roots will result.
10. About August 15th, the same treatment as above is applied. Disbudding at this time aids in the formation of bigger and better flowers and longer stems. This should insure good results. If any other information is desirable, I will gladly forward you the same.
11. Spraying is advisable when necessary with any good recommended insecticide.

NIGHT EDITOR

NIGHT EDITOR (Hulin-Parrella)—

Informal to semi-cactus. Color cyclamen purple blended to darker peony purple. Size of blooms $9 \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ ". Height of plant 5 feet. Good grower with healthy dark foliage. Some blooms carried facing and some on top on good stems. Color formation and size of this variety combine to make a really attractive flower. An Honor Roll Dahlia.

JUST A FEW OF OUR MANY TESTIMONIALS

Dec. 11., 1958

Dear Mr. Parrella:

You may be interested to know that I had the largest in the show with Kemp's Memorial, 15" x 11"; the largest bloom ever shown in Milwaukee.

Dr. Wm. Van H. Milwaukee, Wis.

Dec. 6, 1958

Dear Mr. Parrella:

I have always had excellent service from you. In fact it seems to me you take a personal interest in your customers. I have never had service like that from any other dealer.

May 13, 1958

Dear Mr. Parrella:

I thought you would be interested to know that the Dahlias I purchased from you this Spring really surprised me and all my friends. Margaret Duross grew to 9 feet high and was covered with flowers right up to frost.

Harry B. H., Jr. Swedeland, Pa.

Oct. 6, 1958

Dear Mr. Parrella:

I just want to say the Dahlia plants Kemp's Memorial and Croydon's Monarch came through just beautiful. What lovely plants, they did not wilt. That was the neatest wrapping job I have seen yet.

Mrs. Roy L. Spokane 19, Wash.

October 24, 1958

Dear Mr. Parrella:

Enclosed is a newspaper article which may be of interest to you, since the dahlia seeds were obtained from your gardens last year.

Oklahoma is not the best place to grow dahlias due to the dry, hot winds; but I have had lots of beautiful flowers and they are still going good. Aside from climatic conditons, I have to fight nematodes, red spider, and mildew. I should appreciate any advice you can give me on preventing mildew.

Please mail me your latest catalog.

A WORLD'S RECORD probably couldn't be claimed on these dahlias grown by Clarence Round, shown here examining one of his flowers, but it's a cinch they are a bit out of the ordinary. Round's big dahlias have reached a height of nearly nine feet. The insert shows a close-up of him with one of the dahlia blooms which measures one foot in diameter.

Yours truly Clarence Round

Dear Mr. Parrella:

The Dahlias from you this season were really a sight to behold. They were so beautiful. Many, many thanks.

Don D. D. High Falls, N. Y.

HOW TO GROW DAHLIA FROM SEED

There are many ways that dahlia seeds are started, and grown, on account of the different climatic conditions, and the length of the growing season, here in New York City, I have been getting wonderful results as follows: About April 1st, I select an open sunny location in my garden and spade this to a depth of about 8 inches and rake the soil until it is finely broken, and not lumpy, then with a hoe make trenches about 4 inches in depth and about 12 inches apart.

Then place a seed about every 2 inches apart in these trenches and cover with about one half inch of soil, water lightly and cover with about 2 or 3 inches of peat moss, as a protection against a slight frost or cold. About May 1st carefully remove the peat moss and in another week or two you will see the young dahlia plants breaking through the ground, add a little more soil to the trench and around the plants that are showing above ground, so that they will get better and stronger root formation. About June 1st many of these plants will be about 4 or 5 inches above the ground, showing two to three sets of leaves and the stems will be about the thickness of an ordinary match. They are then about the right size for transplanting.

In colder climates and where the growing season is not so long, is to start the seeds in boxes or flats about 20 inches long, 12 inches wide and 4 inches deep. Make 3 or 4 trenches about 2 inches deep and plant the seed about every 2 inches apart in these trenches and cover with about a half inch of soil. These seeds should be planted about 2 months before it is reasonably safe to transplant the young plants out into the open.

The box should be kept in a warm room and near a window that faces a sunny location. About 2 or 3 weeks later, they will be breaking out of the ground and when they are about 3 or 4 inches high, they should be removed from the box and transplanted into 3 inch flower pots, and on warm, sunny days, should be left out into the open to gradually harden, and when you believe that the time is right for their permanent transplanting as described above, then plant them as directed, and they will grow into strong, healthy plants, as good if not better than plants grown from tubers.

Of course if you have a greenhouse or a cold frame facilities, it will simplify matters by starting your seeds about March 15th and using the above last two paragraph principles.

Greetings . . . To My Friends:

It is with pleasure that I present you with this, my Dahlia Catalogue for 1959. Your generous and kind support is thoroughly appreciated and inspires me to continued effort to make available to you only the best.

This catalog would not be complete if I were not to take advantage of the opportunity to thank you for your many letters telling of various successes obtained from stock purchased from me. I am grateful to those who have been able to visit my gardens as well as those who have inspected my exhibits at the American Dahlia Society Shows, and many other shows we attend and also our display at the New York Botanical Garden because I feel my dahlias speak best for themselves.

To those who are familiar with my stock, no introduction is necessary and you have my pledge that the same quality will not only continue but improve if such is possible. To those who have not tried my service this is an invitation, an invitation that may prove a real opportunity for you to realize something you may not have been able to obtain elsewhere and no order is too small nor is any contract too large, I am pleased to serve you.

ALBERT PARRELLA.

IMPORTANT NOTICE — DO NOT OVERLOOK

Due to the limited space we are compelled to be brief with our descriptions. However, we want our patrons to know that the varieties listed in this Catalog are either Honor Roll Certificate Winners or has proven with us to be truly outstanding.

VISITORS ARE WELCOME

You are cordially invited to bring along as many friends as you possibly can to my gardens at any time after August 15th and see this magnificent sight. You are under no obligation to buy, but welcomed and I will be as happy to see you as you will be to see this magnificent collection of gorgeous massive flowers in all of the colors, shades, and tints of the rainbow.

I will have over 300 varieties, most of them Honor Roll dahlias, as well as many promising seedlings, and many new ones sent by other growers for trial and that have not been released for sales as yet, as well as many novelties.

We want to thank those who have sent to us Seedlings for trial this past season. Assure you we have given them the best of attention. We would appreciate receiving more of them for the coming season providing they are good. We will do all we can to put them over.

A WORD ABOUT OUR DAHLIA PLANTS

We only offer plants of the most expensive varieties. You can secure plants at a much reasonable price. Our plants are made from base cuttings, and aren't over-propagated. We send out fine sturdy plants, well packed and GUARANTEED to reach you in perfect condition. If you take proper care of them you will not be disappointed.

DIRECTIONS FOR REACHING PARRELLA DAHLIA GARDENS

Customers can easily reach our place by taking the Seventh Ave. Express (marked Dyre Ave.) and get off at Baychester Ave. This is one station before the last stop. Our Gardens are only two blocks from Baychester Avenue. Inquire at Station, anyone will direct you to our Gardens. The fare is only 15 Cents.

BY AUTO: Follow the Boston Post Road to either ELY AVENUE or GRACE AVENUE. Grace Avenue is more convenient for your parking space, turn EAST here five hundred feet and you are at the center of our Gardens.

Double cutting dahlia shear for dividing and trimming dahlia clumps. It is specially made for me by a German cutlery manufacturer with over 130 years of experience in making fine horticultural cutting tools. My shear embodies all the desirable points I have found in all the different makes I have used over the past 30 years. Now at last I can offer a shear that is especially designed to get at the hard-to-reach parts of the clump and so permit the cutting of the greatest possible number of eye-bearing divisions with least amount of effort. And when this work is done, the shears can, of course, be used for all kinds of general pruning.

Length 8 3/4". Weight 12 oz.

The price is $7.00 postpaid.

We also have a next best German Pruning Shears for $5.25.
